

Blood Oath Tattoo Cancellation Policy

We at Blood Oath Tattoo respect your time and ask that you respect ours in return. All appointments made will require a deposit that is NON-REFUNDABLE and NON-TRANSFERRABLE. Deposits paid will come off the final cost of your tattoo.

All appointments require a 48 hours notice for cancellation, this allows us to have the time to fill the canceled appointment so that our artists are not lost wages. If appointments are canceled within 48 hours of appointment start time, no showed, if you arrive intoxicated or otherwise unable to be tattooed your deposit will be forfeited and a new deposit will be required if a new appointment is desired.

It will be up to your artist's discretion how to proceed on appointments that change the design from the agreed upon tattoo concept the day of the appointment or arrive at the appointment 30 minutes late without notification.

If your deposit is forfeited you will be required to leave a new deposit before booking any new appointments. Deposits may not be transferred to another person or for the use of a different artist.

We do understand that life has its curveballs and emergencies happen. If you need to cancel for an emergency or health reasons we ask that you contact your artist as soon as possible to inform them.
